DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

2. The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) do not apply to the examination of this application as the application being examined was not (1) filed on or after November 29, 2000, or (2) voluntarily published under 35 U.S.C. 122(b). Therefore, this application is examined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).
3. Claims 1, 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Kirchhoff et al., U.S. Patent 6,057,250.
4. Pertaining to claims 1 and 5, Kirchhoff discloses a semiconductor process as claimed. See FIG. 1, where Kirchhoff teaches a method for forming an interlayer dielectric layer, comprising the steps of:
 - a) providing an active matrix (interconnects 12) on a substrate 11 in a chamber (not shown);
 - b) spraying a silicon source material and a hydrogen peroxide (H_2O_2) in a gaseous state on the active matrix (column5, lines 7-23); and

Art Unit: 2823

c) forming an interlayer dielectric layer 22 on the active matrix by condensation reaction of the silicon source material and hydrogen peroxide (H_2O_2).

Pertaining to claim 2, Kirchhoff teaches wherein the silicon source material includes TEOS (column 5, line 9). Note that the gases are mixed before they are introduced into the chamber.

5. Pertaining to claims 3 and 6, Kirchhoff teaches wherein the source material includes a modified TEOS (column 5, lines 28) Kirchhoff includes boron and phosphor.

6. Pertaining to claim 4, Kirchhoff teaches wherein the step of spraying a silicon source material includes simultaneously an inert gas (argon as an example (column 5, line 21)).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

7. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

8. Claim 7 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kirchhoff et al., U.S. patent 6,057,250.

Kirchhoff discloses a semiconductor process substantially as claimed as discussed above, however, Kirchhoff fails to teach the process parameters as claimed. Given the teaching of the references, it would have been obvious to determine the optimum thickness, temperature as well as condition of delivery of the layers involved. See In re Aller, Lacey and Hall (10 USPQ 233-237) "It is not inventive to discover optimum or workable ranges by routine experimentation. Note that the specification contains no disclosure of either the critical nature of the claimed ranges or any unexpected results arising therefrom. Where patentability is said to be based upon particular chosen dimensions or upon another variable recited in a claim, the Applicant must show that the chosen dimensions are critical. In re Woodruff, 919 f.2d 1575, 1578, 16 USPQ2d 1934, 1936 (Fed. Cir. 1990).

Any differences in the claimed invention and the prior art may be expected to result in some differences in properties. The issue is whether the properties differ to such an extent that the difference is really unexpected. In re Merck & Co., 800 F.2d 1091, 231 USPQ 375 (Fed. Cir. 1986)

Appellants have the burden of explaining the data in any declaration they proffer as evidence of non-obviousness. Ex parte Ishizaka, 24 USPQ2d 1621, 1624 (Bd. Pat. App. & Inter. 1992).

An Affidavit or declaration under 37 CFR 1.132 must compare the claimed subject matter with the closest prior art to be effective to rebut a prima facie case of obviousness. In re Burckel, 592 F.2d 1175, 201 USPQ 67 (CCPA 1979).
